Young Buddhist Monk Burns Himself To Death In Saigon Market; 3 Yankees Beaten

By PETER ARNETT

Associated Press Staff Writer SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A young Buddhist monk burned himself to death today in front of hundreds of horrified onlookers in Saigon's central market, throwing the Vietnamese capital into a new and potentially explosive turmoil.

The suicide, the sixth by Buddhists protesting alleged persecution by the predominantly Roman Catholic government of President Ngo Dinh Diem, came only four days after Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara left Saigon with a report for President Kennedy on the progress of the Vietnamese war against Communist guerrillas.

BARRICADE AREA

One of Kennedy's aims in dispatching McNamara to South Viet Nam was to determine whether the political-religious crisis had hurt the war effort.

Firemen Invite Ambulance Crews

Members of the county's ambulance crews are specially invited to attend the meeting of the Adams County Volunteer Firemen's Association Monday evening at 8 o'clock at Abbottstown, President Robert Heyser announced today.

Heyser said Dr. Eugene Sorenson of Abbottstown will present a film and demonstrations of exterior cardiac massage and mouth-to-mouth resuscitation at the meeting. A special dummy used in training in the massage and mouth-to-mouth methods will be brought to the meeting by Dr. Sorenson to permit practice by those attending.

Also scheduled for Monday's meeting will be demonstrations of use of small hand fire extinguishers by a member of the Abbottstown Fire Company. The committee from the Abbottstown Fire Company arranging for the program was listed as Ervin Bollinger, Harry Moul and Wilmer Rodgers.

Minutes after the monk's charred and blackened body tumbled over, troops and police rushed in, tanks and armored cars rolled up and barbed wire barricades were thrown around downtown Saigon.

The monk, in his early 20s, stepped out of a taxicab at the busy central market intersection shortly after noon. He squatted down in the Buddhist lotus position, pulled a can of gasoline from a small rubber bag, poured the contents on his lap and lit a match.

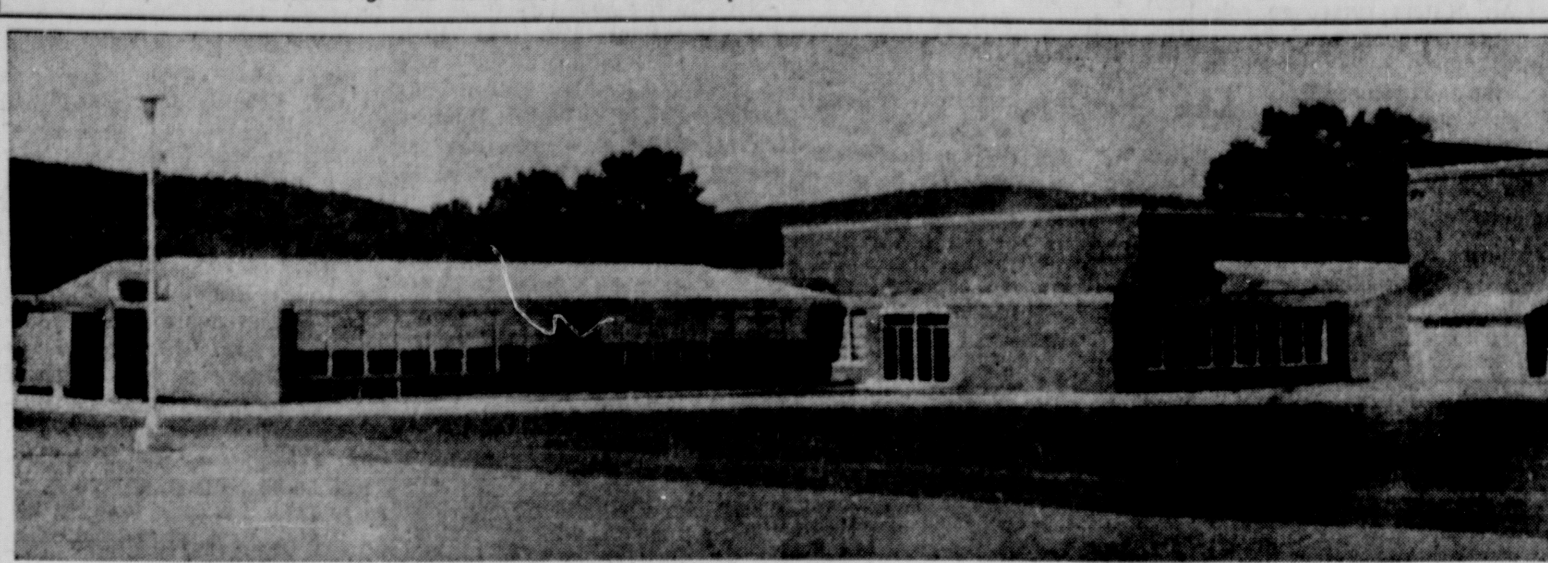

SITS ERECT

He grimaced briefly as the flames engulfed him but maintained his erect posture as the flames ate through his Buddhist robe, baring his gradually blackening body. The lotus position is a traditional Buddhist sitting position with the legs crossed.

Driver Is Fined In $2,000 Crash

Harold Douglas Sanders, 32, Miami, Fla., paid a fine of $10 and costs on a charge of driving too fast for conditions brought Thursday by state police before Justice of the Peace John Whitman after Sanders' tractor trailer struck two utility poles and turned over onto its side 4 1/2 miles west of here on the Fairfield Rd. at noon Thursday.

Sanders was removed to the Warner Hospital for treatment of his injuries before being taken to the justice.

Police estimated $2,000 damage to the tractor and trailer and $300 to the poles.

DAR MEMBERS GIVEN HISTORY OF OLD CHURCH

Fifty members of the Gettysburg chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution were served lunch in the chapel of the Great Conewago Presbyterian Church at Hunterstown Friday at 12 noon and then went into the historic stone church for their October meeting.

Mrs. Clarence C. Smith, the regent, presided during the luncheon and business session that followed. Mrs. Margaret Lorenz was introduced as a new member of the chapter.

The history of Great Conewago Presbyterian Church was related to the DAR members by Miss Ruth McIlhenny, Gettysburg. She said the congregation was established in 1740 and the first log church was built two years later on 50 acres of land donated by James Dickson. The present stone church was erected in 1878 during the pastorate of the Rev. Joseph Henderson. Some of the original glass in the arched colonial windows, which was brought here from England, remains in place. She told of church records having been taken to Chambersburg for safe keeping before the Battle of Gettysburg and of their being lost by fire there later. Confederates burned the old, circular wooden pulpit and carried off the silver communion service, the speaker said. The church itself served as a hospital after the battle.

Supper Meeting For T-C Tuesday

Twenty-three members of Gettysburg Travel Council have pledged $4,875 as their dues for the coming year in the current membership drive, the membership committee announced today in urging all Travel Council members to attend a supper meeting in the Cannon Cafeteria, Steinwehr Ave., Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

In a letter to all members the committee said, "We desperately need your advice and counsel at the meeting" designed to continue discussion of the method to raise the $25,000 needed for Travel Council's operation during the coming year.

Under normal circumstances the council has raised $12,097 for its operation. The 23 pledging the $4,875 are the first to reply to new assessment plans designed to increase the amount from members based upon percentage of income from tourist promotion.

Among the needs for additional money is to pay for advertising — both road signs and other forms, to encourage New York Fair-bound tourists to leave the turnpike and drive to Gettysburg while enroute to or from the fair from the western states.

Florida Gets A Temporary Breather To Prepare For Hurricane's Deadly Punch

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Flora, a killer storm that has taken at least 42 lives, drove back into the heart of Cuba today and gave the Bahamas and southern Florida a little more time to prepare for her powerful and deadly punch.

The night-long battle with Cuba's mountains began to wear Florida down and her winds fell off to 100 miles an hour.

But the Weather Bureau said the storm—which left a trail of devastation and death across Tobago, Haiti and Cuba—would rejuvenate once she cleared Castro's island.

HEAVY DAMAGE

There were no immediate casualty reports from Cuba, but damage was expected to run high since the eastern end of the island was battered by hurricane winds for more than 18 hours.

Appreciates Senate Offer

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, in response to press queries, today expressed his appreciation of a Senate resolution authorizing former Presidents to speak before the U.S. Senate and implied that he "may some day take advantage of the offer."

In a statement to the press General Eisenhower said: "I have just been informed of the resolution authorizing former Presidents to speak before the Senate of the United States. I am most appreciative of the courteous gesture. I shall deeply cherish it."

"While I have no present intention of availing myself of the privilege awarded me, I would consider it an honor to do so should I ever feel that my views respecting a matter of great importance to the nation would warrant me imposing upon the time of that great legislative body."

Canon Best is widely known as a speaker and retreat leader by all denominations and church groups. Before his ordination into the Christian ministry, the Rev. Mr. Best had achieved considerable success in scientific research and later in the field of business management.

This retreat, open to the public, is one of a series that has been held at St. James Church during the last several years, sponsored by the St. James Prayer Group.

WILL DISCUSS BLINKERS FOR CROSS KEYS

State Department of Highways engineers will meet with the Adams County commissioners and the supervisors of Berwick, Hamilton and Oxford Twp. Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the courthouse here to outline plans for placing flashing blinkers and other safety measures at the Cross Keys intersection.

County Commissioners E. Donald Scott and Assemblyman Harry D. Ridinger returned from a visit to the state Department of Highways at Harrisburg Friday with the hope that a blinker light warning system at the intersection may be installed within a month or six weeks.

Scott and Ridinger made the visit to Harrisburg following a meeting Thursday evening at Cross Keys. They took with them petitions signed by more than 1,400 people asking the state to make the intersection near New Oxford safer.

NEED APPLICATIONS

The two said upon their return Friday night that state officials had been "most cordial and most sympathetic about the problem and promised to do all they can to expedite matters."

Two state Highway engineers will be with the commissioners and supervisors at the meeting in the courthouse here Wednesday morning and to give estimates of cost of the flasher type warning lights, and sites for their location north and south of the Lincoln Highway on Route 94.

Scott and Ridinger were told that the state would "undoubtedly" give its approval for the blinkers. They were told the application must be made formally by the township supervisors. Scott and Ridinger were arranging today for the proper application to be ready for the engineers at the time of the meeting Wednesday morning and the engineers will take the application back with them for immediate action by the state at Harrisburg.

How quickly the lights can be installed will be determined to some extent by the cost estimate brought by the engineers Wednesday morning. If the amount is less than that which requires advertising, arrangements could be made with a contractor Wednesday for installation to proceed as soon as the state okayes the application. If the amount will require advertising for bids, the installation will be held up about a month.

The Adams County 4-H Light Horse and Pony Club will meet Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the West St. Branch of the Gettysburg National Bank, Associate County Agent Joseph F. Lutz has announced. U.S. Withdraws Aid From Honduras And Dominican Republic Coup Leaders

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has raised a warning flag for any more Latin-American military leaders contemplating a grab for power.

It made an example Friday of the Dominican Republic and Honduras, whose governments were toppled in quick succession.

Going further than merely suspending aid and diplomatic relations, the United States ordered withdrawal of the U.S. economic and military aid missions from the two countries—making it that much more difficult for assistance to be resumed.

"We view the recent military coups in the Dominican Republic and Honduras with the utmost gravity," Secretary of State Dean Rusk said in a statement announcing the action.

Earlier in the day the State Department suspended diplomatic relations and deliveries of military and economic aid to Honduras.

KNOUSE FOODS GIVES $1,000 TO LIBRARY'S BUILDING FUND

A gift of $1,000 by the Knoouse Foods Cooperative to the building fund of the Adams County Library was announced Friday evening at the October meeting of the library's board of directors.

The new gift in the continuing building fund campaign puts the total over the $70,000 mark. C. P. Keefe told the other members of the board. He said more is expected from industry and organizations and the solicitation of individuals has not been completed. He reported the current total for the fund drive is $70,205. The original goal was $100,000.

Most of Friday evening's session was devoted to decisions in connection with the progress on the new building which is to be under roof in two weeks with masonry work already 90 per cent finished. The arrival of steel is delaying placing the roof deck, Henry Pettit, an architect's representative, told the directors.

MAKE CHANGES IN PLANS

Some changes were authorized in the building plans to qualify the library building for a greatly improved insurance rate. After a report from Gettysburg Building Inspector Charles Kuhn that the state Department of Labor and Industry will not approve the present chimney from the enlarged heating plant, the board gave the building committee, headed by Donald B. Hudson, authority to make changes required to comply with state regulations. Chimney changes or conversion to gas were among the steps suggested.

Mrs. Mary S. Wilson, the county librarian, and Joseph Bobransky, coordinator for the rural library service demonstration project here, told the board of increasing demands for more books and more stops by the community service bookmobile. On the Saturday trips, Mrs. Wilson said, it is necessary to have three staff members aboard to handle the volume of counters on its community calls.

GOING TO WORKSHOP

Mrs. Wilson said Buchanan Valley and Edge Grove are requesting that they be put on the bookmobile's itinerary.

Mrs. Richard Schbart and Mr. Keefe will attend a trustees' workshop to be held at Harrisburg October 23 and 24.

The Adams County 4-H Light Horse and Pony Club will meet Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the West St. Branch of the Gettysburg National Bank, Associate County Agent Joseph F. Lutz has announced. MRS. KENNEDY OFF TO TURKEY

By FRANCES LEWINE
ATHENS (AP) — First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy headed for Turkey aboard the luxury yacht Christina today after a festive shipboard midnight party.

A spokesman at the U.S. embassy confirmed the 303-foot craft was heading for Istanbul, but said the arrival time was uncertain. The yacht is capable of sailing the 480 miles to Istanbul in 24 hours if no stops are made at the picturesque islands that dot the Aegean Sea.

The destination of the yacht was at first shrouded in secrecy and the first hint of it would call in Turkey was made by Theodore Garoufalides, brother-in-law of Aristotle Onassis, Greek shipping magnate who owns the vessel. He said the yacht was heading for the Turkish city on the Bosphorus.

OFFERED VILLA

Turkish President Cemal Gursel has offered Mrs. Kennedy use of his villa on the Marmara Sea a few miles southeast of Istanbul. But it was not certain whether she would accept the offer.

Mrs. Kennedy's two-week visit to Greece has been described as strictly private.

Strains of continental dance music from an orchestra were heard ashore during the midnight party.

Garoufalides said the First Lady, in short formal evening dress, was "very happy, very charming and very conversational" at the party.

Among the guests on the cruise, which started under a moonlit sky, were U.S. Undersecretary of Commerce Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. and his wife, Roosevelt arrived in Athens Friday to discuss trade matters with U.S. embassy officials in Athens and possibly Greek officials.

Others aboard included Onassis, Mrs. Kennedy's brother-in-law and sister, Prince and Princess Stanislas Radziwill; two of Onassis' married sisters, Russian Princess Irene Galyki and Alexis Minotis, husband of actress Katina Paxinou.

CIA CHIEF IN SO. VIET NAM CALLED HOME

WASHINGTON (AP)—The CIA chief in South Viet Nam is reportedly being called home in what may be the first step of a shakeup of American personnel in Saigon.

John H. Richardson is officially being recalled to Washington for consultations. But reliable sources indicate ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge wants to replace him as head of the Central Intelligence Agency mission in South Viet Nam.

The report of Richardson's recall came only three days after Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, completed an inspection trip in Viet Nam and reported to President Kennedy.

CITE DIFFERENCES

Richardson has been one of the key architects of U.S. effort to the President Ngo Dinh Diem's government out Communist guerrillas. State Department sources give him good marks in this respect.

But there have been persistent reports of differences between Lodge and the CIA mission and other agencies operating under Lodge's general direction in attempting to straighten out U.S.-Vietnamese relations.

Richardson, it is reliably reported, won't return to South Viet Nam.

It has been expected that Lodge would shake up the U.S. mission at Saigon.

Library branches made 261 loans. September's report brought the total loans so far this year to 99,960.

President H. Thomas Pyle presided at the meeting with 10 members present. The meeting adjourned at 9 p.m.

Young Buddhist

raised stiffly before him, the monk keeled over dead.

American news correspondents were only 10 yards away.

A leaflet thrown into the yard of Vietnamese intelligence headquarters identified the monk as Thich Quang Huong. It said he sacrificed himself for the Buddhist cause.

3 YANKS BEATEN

Vietnamese plainclothesmen kicked and pummeled three American correspondents to the ground, grabbed a camera and ran off.

John Sharkey of the National Broadcasting Co. and Grant Wolfkill, also of NBC, were attacked as they turned movie cameras on the burning monk. Sharkey was bleeding from head injuries.

David Halberstam of the New York Times went to Sharkey's and Wolfkill's assistance and he was beaten also. The newsmen did not fight back but tried to protect their equipment.

Wolfkill lost his camera but Sharkey's was not confiscated.

STOP AMERICANS

The police stopped the newsmen from driving off in a taxi-cab. They made their way to a nearby hotel and called a hospital.

Fire engines, squads of riot police and troops in battle gear took up positions in the middle of the intersection.

A low moan rose from a crowd which quickly gathered after the monk stepped out of a cab and lit the match.

A child cried in her mother's arms. A woman laughed hysterically.

Another woman grabbed a correspondent by the shirt and tried to say something but only tears came.

"You take pictures," a young man told a reporter. "You write story. You must tell Mr. Kennedy what is going on in this country."

FANS FLAMES

Then a policeman grabbed a Vietnamese straw hat off a woman's head, pushed his way through the crowd and tried to extinguish the flames by waving the broad-brimmed hat.

His efforts only fanned the flames, which roared high above the monk's head. The policeman staggered back and the crowd began to murmur.

Finally, a soldier threw a thick straw mat over the monk's prostrate form and firemen directed extinguishers on the flames.

The first suicide occurred in another Saigon intersection June 1, when the 63-year-old Monk Quang Duc burned himself alive.

His death set off a wave of Buddhist demonstrations against the Diem government, which finally led to the government's arrest of all Buddhist leaders Aug. 21.

ORRTANNA—The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Orrtanna Methodist Church held a quiet hour service, titled "Peace With God" in place of a Week of Prayer. A sacrificial meal was held in the church dining room after the meeting.

The program opened with a prayer hymn after which the introduction was given by the spiritual life leader, Mrs. Walter Tressler who read from Matthew 14. After a hymn and responsive reading, prayer was offered by Mrs. Frank Donaldson. There was a meditation by Mrs. Mary Hess on "An Enemy of God." After a hymn, Mrs. Donaldson read the 23rd Psalm. There was a period of silent prayer and Mrs. Althea March read the poem, "For the Master's Use." Mrs. Tressler spoke on "Peace" and "words of need" were given by Susan March, Patsy Harbaugh, Fay Melhorn and Sandra McClell. The "answering voices" were Phyllis Flemmer, Beulah Newell, Mrs. Tressler and Mrs. Hess. After a prayer in unison for all conditions of men, Mrs. Donaldson gave Wesley's covenant prayer. There was a presentation of gifts and the benediction after which the members went to the dining room for their sacrificial meal.

ANNEXATION IS BEING SOUGHT

Permission to have a tract of Carroll Twp. land annexed to the borough of Dillsburg for sewer service purposes was sought from Carroll Twp. supervisors at a recent meeting.

Wilbur Plank, representative of the Gettysburg Engineering Company, informed the supervisors that Dillsburg borough authority had denied a request from Mrs. Eva Pape, Buford Ave., for sewer service on a tract of land which she is proposing to develop. The authority, Plank said, suggested that Mrs. Pape have her property annexed to the town.

Dillsburg is planning a new sewage treatment plant which will be located in the township. Plank said that he had conducted percolation test of the soil.

He said that with the proximity of the new sewage plant, it would be a simple matter to connect the development to the plant. If this can not be done, he suggested a private plant to serve the proposed development and perhaps the Beavertown area.

The supervisors said they felt that this plan was worth considering and would like to know the thinking of the residents of the area. A meeting of the township supervisors and sewer authority was suggested to work out an agreement.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

SHIPPERS FACE NEW TROUBLES IN QUEBEC PORT

MONTREAL (AP)—Shippers braced for the possibility of new trouble on the waterfront today after violence marked the departure of a luxury liner from Quebec City.

Striking longshoremen kicked and pummeled a Cunard steamship executive and another man attempting to leave the 20,000-ton Carmania Friday night and pelted the ship and a tug with stones. The liner's crew turned fire hoses on the strikers.

THREATEN RAIL STRIKE

There was fear also that the two-day-old strike by 3,800 longshoremen, already reported imperiling Canada's $500-million wheat deal with the Soviet Union, may be compounded by a halt of freight trains hauling the grain from the prairies to docks. Locomotive firemen threatened a walkout to back demands they be allowed to work a six-day week.

An official of the striking International Longshoremen's association said reports that the strike would jeopardize the wheat deal have been exaggerated.

Union officials gathering to consider a federal mediator's proposal invited Teddy Gleason, head of the International Longshoremen in New York, to attend the meeting. A Canadian union spokesman said Gleason was asked to try to ensure the cooperation of all Atlantic ports, especially New York, in the strike.

WILL REJECT OFFER

A top union official said the union executives almost certainly would reject a compromise pay offer.

The Carmania canceled a stop at Montreal and sailed for Europe with 300 passengers despite the lieup of three St. Lawrence River ports—Montreal, Quebec and Trois-Rivieres.

The melee started, witnesses said, when seamen aboard the Carmania threw pennies at the strikers. The stevedores retaliated with stones.

Forty-one ships were reported tied up in Montreal, four at Quebec and a few at Trois-Rivieres. This represented only about half the number normally present in shipping season.

THREE WHEAT LOADS

Of the ships idled in Montreal, only three were loading wheat for the Soviet Union. Six or seven inland grain carriers also were docked at Montreal.

About 60 million bushels of the record 228 million-bushel deal, valued at $500 million, were to have been cleared before the winter freeze-up. The contract calls for the entire shipment to be completed by next July 31.

The longshoremen, seeking a 45-cent-an-hour package increase to their $2.33 basic wage, and officials of the Shipping Federation of Canada met with federal mediator Rene Lippe Friday. A union official said the shippers had offered a 25-cent increase. E. M. Strange, head of the Shippers' labor committee, denied the offer had been extended. The federation offered a 16-cent package last March but union members turned it down.

State Department cautioned against any blanket condemnation of military takeovers in Latin America.

They stressed that military juntas, undesirable as they are, could still represent progress if they ousted an inefficient regime and did not try to hold power too long.

It was pointed out that although the United States maintains that military seizures are no substitute for constitutional procedures, the hard fact of life is that Washington has to work with forces that are in power.

One object of the Alliance for Progress is to promote legitimacy and stability in the Western Hemisphere and to help develop respect for democracy.

WILL OUTLINE FRENCH POLICY TO KENNEDY

By ENORE MARTON
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville arrives here tonight, and Kennedy administration officials expect he will clarify some of the mysteries of De Gaulle foreign policy. They have a list of questions ready.

Some officials hinted that President Kennedy and his aides also may sound out Couve de Murville on the chances of persuading France to return to the Geneva disarmament conference.

Couve de Murville has no appointments Sunday but will meet with Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk Monday and Tuesday. He plans to fly back to Paris Wednesday.

INFORMAL TALKS

The talks will be informal, without an agenda, and officials said there has been no indication what issues Couve de Murville may bring up.

There is, on the other hand, a sheet prepared at the State Department with a number of question marks. Kennedy and Rusk want to know, informants said, what President Charles de Gaulle had in mind in his various speeches recently when he touched on international problems.

De Gaulle has made several speeches recently, and all of them were studied in Washington with great care.

When he talked about France's determination to follow an independent course within the Atlantic alliance, or when he insisted that his country must develop its own nuclear deterrent, his statements were noted here, but no eyebrows were raised. These were restatements of De Gaulle's position, and he is not expected to change them.

NEW POINTS

But the French leader injected some new points. In Strasbourg, at a meeting of the 18-nation Council of Europe, his representative proposed that when the French nuclear force becomes operational, it be used "by all European nations for the common defense."

The United States has opposed creation of independent nuclear forces and advocates a multinational NATO nuclear force of surface vessels.

But probably the most mystifying of all his statements was made in a speech last week in Lyon. De Gaulle warned Europe against the dangers of being delivered to the mercy of either of the two "foreign hegemonies," meaning the United States and the Soviet Union. This, he said, would leave Europe "without backbone, without soul, and without roots."

CLEARING THE MIND
It is unfortunate the way notions, prejudices and intolerance take possession of so many people. It is human nature, just plain ignorance, or is it a lack of desire to be above the average run of minds and not to care?

Daily, constantly, we need to clear these minds of ours — for battle against the things that enslave human thought and action. The freer we are from all fear, the broader we are in all our judgments, and the more ready we are to accept and to receive that which we know is true, the more tolerant and understanding we become!

We look upon a person with handicaps and we are prone to censure — but when we know the background which perhaps brought about those handicaps we see everything through a new light.

People told me to read "David Copperfield" without giving me any reason for it, but when I learned that Dickens, as a child, went through many of the experiences as told in the book, and that it was really a story of the great writer himself, I became interested. I then knew that I would learn about my own human nature and about life itself. Dickens then came to life for me — and he will for you, if you read this book.

Happy, healthy minds are never cluttered up! They are cleared for the best that life affords. And there is a place for each bit of substance that enriches this mind.

The thrill about reading books is that there is usually something in every one of them that we didn't expect, and the thrill about traveling is to discover something about which no person or book has told you. But if your mind is all clogged up with petty irritations, worries, and bitterness, there isn't much space for beauty and surprises to climb in! Keep the mind of yours cleared ever ready for the best things of life to flow in and become a part of your superior education.

Opportunities wait on street corners, watching for the mind that is cleared, so that they may find therein a nesting place to breed and build!

THAT SHAKESPEARE FELLOW

A fellow named Shakespeare came to town,
Rented a cottage and settled down;
And the neighbors said that they couldn't see
That much of a help to the place he'd be;
And they whispered it far in those bygone days:
He was making his money by writing plays!

Stratford people had notions, too,
Of the kind of work that a man should do,
And they gossiped and rumored and thought it queer
That a man should scribble from year to year;
Should scribble for actors! Those creatures vile
The law would hang in a little while!

I would they might rise from their graves today
And visit the haunts of Anne Hathaway,
And walk through the streets of Stratford town
To share in the pride of its bright renown;
I fancy they'd gape at the love men show
For that Shakespeare fellow they used to know.

Where To Hide Valachi Poses Problem For U.S.; Is In District Prison

By JOSEPH A. MOHABAT
WASHINGTON (AP)—Joseph Valachi, the talkative Cosa Nostra mobster, is posing a new dilemma for federal officials—where to hide him for the rest of his life when he stops talking.

They must find a secluded nook in their prison system where the 60-year-old informer can live out his days safe from vengeful underworld killers who reportedly have placed a $100,000 bounty on his head for spilling the secrets of organized crime.

A Bureau of Prisons official admitted, "If we had to take custody of Valachi today we honestly wouldn't know where to put him." For a while, Valachi will stay at the District of Columbia Jail, in a private cell away from other prisoners, with a television set for company. One guard keeps an eye on him.

HAS LIFE TERM

He has been at the jail between appearances before the Senate Investigations subcommittee, which resumes its questioning Tuesday. He most likely will remain there for a few weeks, a Justice Department source told a reporter. Valachi will testify before federal grand juries and talk with Canadian law enforcement officials.
But then what? Valachi is serving a life term for murder. The government is responsible for his safety. It could be sued were he to be harmed while under its custody.

The Bureau of Prisons is scrutinizing its high-security institutions across the nation in search for the ideal spot — one where Valachi can be isolated from other prisoners while not being placed in solitary confinement.

So far, the leading candidates are McNeil Island Penitentiary, on Puget Sound, in Washington; Leavenworth Penitentiary, Kansas; and the Medical Center in Springfield, Mo.

WAS IN JERSEY
"But every time he names a name in those hearings it becomes harder to find a place for him," the Bureau of Prisons source said. "We've got a lot of these celebrities in prisons all across the country. And we sure don't want to put him in the middle of people who want him dead the most."

Shortly before coming to Washington to testify, Valachi was held for several weeks at the Army Signal Center, Ft. Monmouth, N.J. But the prisons official said there is no possibility of his being imprisoned on an Army post, that he said, would be impractical.

How about hiding him in some state prison? "I don't imagine there's a state in the country that wants responsibility for Joe Valachi," the official said.

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER
HANDY MEMO. Keeping your hands lovely is never a slapdash affair. But as colder weather approaches, attention must be stepped up or chap will step in.

Without some special care, hands can become rough and red in a few days of inclement weather—particularly if they are exposed to harsh detergents at the same time. The condition, of course, is unsightly. Worse, it can develop into open, stinging splits.

It may surprise you to learn that one of the best chap preventatives is extra frequent and careful washing. Try to wash hands before the need become apparent and always after contact with strong household cleansers. In that way you keep the skin free of those invisible irritants that sensitize the skin to chap.

Be sure, however, to wash with mild soap and to remember that the test of mildness is not always a frothy lather. The gentlest soap feels creamy and is slow to froth.

Make certain, too, to dry thoroughly. Pay particular visits to the knuckles and between-finger areas. The damp crevasse is a chap-trap.

Hand lotion, as you doubtless guess, is also essential to the program. You cannot use too much of it. The most effective kinds combine emollients and healing ingredients. Worth investigation are new lotions and creams with a low pH factor. Confined heretofore to facial treatments, the factor helps maintain the skin's delicate acid balance. And that action wards off dryness.

To those measurers add warm street gloves and protective work gloves. Then no harm can come to your hand complexion. In fact it will grow lovelier.

LOVELIER HANDS

Do you have a hand problem? Send today for LOVELIER HANDS, a booklet that covers every step in a quest for hand beauty. It tells how to keep the skin and nails groomed; how to overcome weak nails, polish chips, discolored knuckles, prominent veins, wrinkles; how to use the hands with poised grace. To obtain your copy, write Mary Sue Miller, Box 158, The Gettysburg Times, Dundee, Ill., enclosing a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1463, the Treaty of Conflans was signed between King Louis XI of France and the dukes of Bourbon, Brittany and Burgundy. The treaty ceded Normandy to the Duke of Berry and ended what has been called the War of the Public Good.

On this date In 1582, Pope Gregory XIII reformed the calendar and decreed that Oct. 5 of that year be changed to Oct. 15.

In 1675, Indians attacked Springfield, Mass.

In 1813, the Shawnee Chief Tecumseh was killed in the Battle of the Thames in Canada while aiding the British against the United States.

In 1931, Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon Jr. made the first nonstop airplane flight across the Pacific Ocean.

In 1945, telephone service across the United States was tied up by a strike of the National Federation of Telephone Workers.

Ten years ago . . . the New York Yankees became the first club in history to win five straight world championships when they defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers 4-3 and took the 1953 World Series four games to two.

Finkboner To Miller Pass Gives Warriors 7-0 Win Over Susquehanna Eleven

A picture catch of a pass by senior halfback Ron Miller turned near disaster into victory for Gettysburg High School as the Warriors scored a 7-0 win over Susquehanna Friday evening on Kurtz Field before 1,700 fans in a Blue Mountain League game.

After playing a dull three quarters, Coach Don Young's squad snapped to life in the final frame. Sophomore Dick Finkboner, starting his first game at quarterback, began to click on his tosses and hard-running Joe Riley started to roll over the opposition, even his own men.

With time running out in the ball game and the count standing at 0-0, Riley returned a Dallas Ashenfelder punt six yards to the 50-yard line. Finkboner stepped back and rifled a perfect pass to Jim Newman for 26 yards and a first down on the Black Hawks' 24. Riley blasted for three more yards off left guard, but Newman was trapped for a seven-yard loss back to the 28. With 1:30 remaining in the contest, Finkboner again went to the air and this time hit Ron Miller, who went up for the ball with defender Mike Eckerd. Miller fell in the end zone clutching the pass for the touchdown. Newman kicked a perfect placement and the final score read 7-0.

HAWKS NEVER THREATEN

Both teams had their troubles all evening. Gettysburg's blocking did not hold up and consequently the ground game was held to 44 yards. The Warriors also fumbled the ball five times but were able to recover all five bobbles. Susquehanna couldn't do anything when it did get its hands on the ball. The Black Hawks got no further than the 50-yard line and that was in the first quarter.

When the Warriors started to move they turned things over to their little speedster Jim Newman, but at times even that didn't work as the Susquehanna line poured in on the Warriors' leading ground-gainer for substantial losses. Early in the third quarter both teams began to punt on second and third downs trying to position themselves or recover via fumbles since there were so many. There were a total of 16 punts in the game, nine by Susquehanna.

The Warriors are now 2-3 on the season and 2-2 in the conference. Susquehanna is winless in five games to date as well as in four BML outings.

Gettysburg will have its work cut out next Saturday afternoon when it attempts to even its season record against Northern at Dillsburg in another conference tilt.

SPEEDY SCOT MAY BE NEXT HORSE OF YEAR

By KELSO STURGEON
Associated Press Sports Writer

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Speedy Scot, winner of the $60,861 Kentucky Futurity and the Triple Crown of trotting, must be considered a leading contender for Harness Horse of the Year honors.

The amazing Castleton Farm colt captured the futurity Friday with ease and became the second horse in history to win trotting's Triple Crown. The only other horse to match the feat was Scott Frost in 1955.

Seldom does the Horse of the Year honor go to a 3-year-old but it will be hard to overlook this great champion this season. His string of brilliant performances and his consistency on the track outshine the efforts of such fine older horses as Duke Rodney and Su Mac Lad.

DEFEATED SEVEN

Speedy Scot, with Ralph Baldwin in the sulky, acted like he was out for his afternoon stroll when he turned back a field of seven others in record time in the Futurity.

His victories were effortless and Baldwin never once touched him with the whip as he came home two lengths in front of the Adren Homestead Stable's Floris in the first heat and a length in front of the latter in the second.

Speedy Scot wasn't pushed in the first heat as he came home in 1:57 1-5. This compared with the old futurity mark of 1:58 1-5 set in 1961 by Caleb He bounced right back in the second and hit the finish in 1:57 2-5.

KAYO CAUSES RING BRAWL

BOSTON (AP)—Jarring Florentino Fernandez owns a fifth straight knockout in his comeback as a middleweight contender but he had to share the television spotlight with a spectator brawl.

Fernandez floored Joe DeNucci of Newton, Mass., with his feared left hand at 2:30 of the fourth round Friday night at Boston Arena.

Referee Jimmy McCarron had reached the count of six when several Cubans climbed into the ring waving flags and a banner, quickly followed by a wave of pursuers.

Fists flew, a knife was drawn, a man tumbled over the press row and for a short while the turmoil which started in the ring spread into the aisles.

When order was restored, DeNucci was still a victim of his first knockdown—and knockout—in 44 pro fights. Fernandez, whose 150½ weight was 5½ pounds less than DeNucci's, had his 30th knockout.

"I knew from the start it was only a matter of time," the mustachioed Cuban referee said after the fight. DeNucci agreed with the analysis.

Former Cage Star Dies Of Injuries

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP)—Former basketball star Bob McDermott died Friday as the result of injuries suffered in a traffic accident two weeks ago. He was 48.

The 5-foot-10 ace started with the New York Celtics, went to the Fort Wayne Pistons of the American Basketball League in 1940, and later played with Moline, Ill., and Denver.

McDermott was injured Sept. 23 at Yonkers Raceway where he was employed as a security officer.

SENIOR LOOP MOVES TO AID METS, COLTS

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—National League club owners took a positive step to help the tailend New York Mets and Houston Colts Friday by making available a list of 32 players at $30,000 each.

Each of the eight other clubs would make a list of four players who were on the roster as of Aug. 31. The selling team is obligated to give up only one of these men at the $30,000 price tag but may negotiate for the sale of all of them if it wishes.

Warren Giles, president of the National League, said the lists must be presented by noon of the day following the last World Series game. He said he already had several of the lists and expected the others within a day or so.

EARLY SELECTION

"As soon as I get all the lists I will submit the names to the New York and Houston clubs," said Giles. "I expect they will make their selections immediately but they must make them before Oct. 14 when rosters are frozen for the draft."

When the selection meeting is held, probably in Cincinnati, the Mets will have first pick. George Weiss, president of the New York team, won the toss from Paul Richards, general manager of the Colts.

At the original player selection in October, 1961, when each club stocked its roster, the Houston club had first pick. At that time the prices ranged from $50,000 to $125,000.

"It is difficult to say whether we are satisfied until we see what we get," said Richards. "We don't expect any stars but we hope to get better attractions." Weiss said he had claimed 348 men on waivers this year and didn't get one. The only players the Mets got on waivers in 1962 were pitchers Galen Cisco and Larry Fosch.

"I am pleased at the spirit shown," said Weiss. "But as for the selection plan I can only wait and see what names are on the list."

SPARTANS ARE DEFEATED BY USC 13 TO 10

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Stunned by a 38-yard field goal and an 88-yard scoring pass play by halfback Sherman Lewis, Southern California came from behind with a spectacular counterattack of its own for two touchdowns and a 13-10 football victory over Michigan State Friday night.

Sophomore halfback Mike Garrett on the first play of the fourth quarter, ripped through the middle of the Spartan line for 32 yards and within six more minutes, quarterback Pete Beathard connected with a 16-yard touchdown pass in the end zone to towering end Hal Bedsole.

A crowd of 59,137 in Memorial Coliseum, which had just about given up any hope of a Trojan victory, was electrified by the abrupt turn of events.

Southern Cal, defending national champion, seemed destined to lose its second straight game after the Oklahoma defeat last week.

Garrett's spectacular run on a quick opener obviously fired up the Trojans. When Willie Brown returned a punt by the Spartans' soccer-style kicking specialist, Lou Bobich, the Trojans promptly struck again.

Michigan State completely dominated the first half but scored only a field goal from 38 yards by Bobich.

3-0 AT HALF
The Trojans never were able to penetrate beyond the Spartans' 43-yard mark and only twice did they cross midfield.

So Michigan State held a 3-0 lead at the half.

Lewis' sensational 88-yard run on a screen pass from sophomore quarterback Steve Juday lengthened the margin.

Lewis took the ball on the short flip and never was touched as he raced down the sideline in front of his own bench. Bobich kicked the extra point.

Michigan State 3 0 7 0-10
USC 0 0 0 13-13

Tosmah Favored At Aqueduct Today

NEW YORK (AP)—Tony Imbessi's Tosmah, undefeated in five starts, was the even-money choice to take the $119,200 Frizette Stakes at Aqueduct today.

Ten 2-year-old fillies were entered in the one-mile event, including a four-horse entry trained by Bill Winfrey. The foursome consisted of Castle Forbes, Beautiful Day, Bold Queen and Title Seeker. The entry was quoted at 3-1.

Also at 3-1 was Petite Rouge, with Hasty Matelda, View at the Top, Laughing Judy and Little Red Belle completing out the field.

EXTRA POINT DECIDES MANY GRID BATTLES

By DAVE LEHERR
Associated Press Staff Writer

The extra-point played a vital role Friday night in scholastic football action across Pennsylvania.

At least 18 key games, and probably more, were decided by the slim margin of that all-important P.A.T. (point after touchdown) and five others ended in deadlocks that the extra point could have broken.

Three of the big cliffhangers found Danville edging Jersey Shore 13-12 for its 16th straight victory, Washington sneaking by Mount Lebanon 14-13 to stay alive in the torrid WPIAL Class AA scramble and Neshaminy surviving Allentown 21-20 in a battle of eastern power.

LONGEST STREAK

Meanwhile, unpublishable Beaver whitewashed New Brighton 19-0 to preserve the state's longest winning streak, now at 23.

The Beavers were 9-0 both in 1961 and 1962, and have won five so far this year.

Hot in pursuit in the mythical winning race is Harrisburg John Harris which notched its 17th, clubbing Reading 28-6 in a Central Penn game.

New Castle became the first team to cross Alliquippa's goal line three times to whip the Hurricanes 19-6. That makes 108 points the Quips have scored in their first five games.

Bob Bigley flipped a 23-yard pass to Pat Sherbak to break that invisible guard at the Alliquippa goal line.

DEFEAT YEADON

The Rams of Darby-Colwyn, favorites in the Suburban Four League in the Philadelphia area, bounced back from a 12-0 defeat at the hands of Collingdale, to nip Yeadon by the same margin, 12-0.

And Skip Fisher booted two extra points to give Lancaster Catholic a hard-earned 14-12 triumph over Lebanon Catholic.

Other games settled by the one-point route were: Lebanon over York 14-13, State College over Lewistown 7-6, Uniontown over Baldwin 13-12, Bedford over Port-Abington 14-13, Clearfield over age 20-19, Lower Merion over Abington 14-13, Clearfield over Phillipsburg-Osceola 14-13, Avalon over Elma 7-6, Beth Center over German 7-6, Fairchance-Georges over Scotdale 13-12, Conemaugh over Westmont 13-12, Avonworth over South Fayette 13-12, Owen J. Roberts over Boyertown 14-13 and Porter-Tower over Williamstown 13-12.

LOSE 37TH GAME

Hapless Saltsburg lost its 37th straight to Rankin 26-0.

Five of the seven ties recorded for the night could have been decided by the all-important extra point. Lock Haven, Huntingdon battled to a 6-6 deadstill, Somerset and Everett also wound up in a 6-6 deadlock, Shamokin Catholic and Pottsville Nativity traded 20 points apiece, West Mifflin South and Snowden had a 12-12 stand off and Plum and Springdale couldn't get past the 13 point mark.

Sunbury continued being the surprise of the East Penn Conference with a 14-6 victory over arch rival Coal Twp., and Butler posted a big 41-21 triumph over Beaver Falls in the WPIAL race.

VET PLAYERS SEEK SECURITY

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Veteran baseball players who believe they are being nudged off the payroll by the new bonus rule have called on management to come to their aid.

Under the new rule, if a big league club wants to protect from the draft a youngster to whom it may have paid $100,000 or so it must carry him on its 25-man roster. Sometimes he sits on the bench and sometimes he is sent to the minors and the big league plays with only 24 men. In a few instances, one club has protected two bonus babies this way.

The veterans believe this rule can cut short their careers by one to three years since the men dropped to make way for the youngsters are always the older players. Loss of playing years cuts into the rich baseball pension payments for the veterans.

"We have requested some type of immediate consideration to modify the bonus rules and protect the deserving veterans," said Robert Cannon of Milwaukee, the legal advisor of the baseball players.

Faulty Heating Systems Blamed For Winter Fires; Flues Must Be Kept Clean

By THOMAS E. PIPER
Adams County Farm Agent

October 6-12 is National Fire Prevention Week.

Cold weather always brings an increase in destructive fires.

National Fire Protection Association records show that heating systems are mainly to blame. When they're pushed hard in the cold weather, any weakness in the equipment or installation can show up, sometimes causing disasters.

To reduce fire hazards and keep fuel bills down, all furnaces and heaters need a periodic cleaning and check-up. Flue pipes must be kept clean, free of holes and weak spots, well-supported and away from combustibles.

Make sure they are spaced far enough from nearby surfaces to prevent overheating. Check chimneys for cracks and loose bricks. If chimneys are used for coal or wood fires, a yearly cleaning is necessary.

Refueling portable oil heaters calls for caution. Never fill while they are burning or still hot, and avoid overfilling. If coal oil is used watch for possible burner flooding and flare-up.

Keep portable heaters out of halls and away from doors or stairs where they might block escape. See that they are not placed too near curtains, clothes racks and other combustibles. Don't buy or keep tippy heaters.

Get your heating equipment ready for winter. Make your family and home safer from fire.

PLANT BULBS IN FALL

Tulips and daffodils, admired so much in the spring, must be planted in the fall. Tulip and daffodil bulbs can be planted any time from now until the ground is frozen. Bulbs must have a period of cold temperature that winter provides before they will grow. Although other spring flowers need different depths of planting, tulips and daffodils should be planted six inches deep. Or, remember to plant the bulb three times the length of the longest part of the bulb. The depth in the ground is measured from ground level to the top of the bulb. This insures the bulb being deep enough to prevent freezing and thawing heaving the bulb out of the ground. This depth also means better growing conditions for the bulbs during the summer growing season.

Above are eight Adams County 4-H Light Horse and Pony Club members who will take part in the state 4-H horse and pony competition at the Pennsylvania Livestock Exhibition at the Farm Show building in Harrisburg November 14 and 15. The group won the right to take part in the competition by winning first and second places in the District VII elimination recently. Included in the group, left to right, are Norman Helman, Fairfield R. D.; Eddie Toddes, Gettysburg R. D.; Mary Ann Clapsaddle, Gettysburg R. 1; Cindy Helman, Fairfield R. 2; Cheri Swope, Gettysburg; Lucille Moore, Gardners R. 1; Debbie Swope, Gettysburg, and Lyn Galusha, Bendersville.

Gardeners are urged to buy good quality bulbs, plant them at the proper depth in soil with good drainage to assure beautiful flowers next spring.

FRESH COWS NEED FEED

Milk production can often be increased as much as 1,200 lbs. per cow when grain is fed heavier at freshening time. Contrary to current opinion, cattle health usually improves on such a feeding program.

Beginning about two weeks before expected calving, increase grain feeding one to two pounds daily until most cows are fed grain at a level equal to one per cent of their body weight at least seven days prior to freshening. Maintain this level of grain feeding for three days following calving. Then increase the amount of grain fed by two pounds daily so that most cows receive grain at the rate of two per cent of body weight with 10 to 14 days after freshening. Thus a 1,200-pound cow would be fed 24 pounds of grain daily.

Do not reduce this level of grain intake until it is certain the cows have reached the peak of their lactation. If production levels require, more grain can usually be fed economically under most Pennsylvania conditions.

This feeding schedule should be used regardless of present production. It has been used successfully on dairy demonstration farms throughout the state, as well as by hundreds of dairymen using the Penn State Forage Testing Service. A fresh-cow feeding schedule is tailored to the conditions of each herd using this unique service.

Most dairymen report no more, or less, udder trouble when cows are fed grain more heavily. In many instances better conception results when cows are bred, and fewer cases of ketosis or actinemia occur.

Promote Countian To Army Sergeant

Gerald W. Yoder, son of Wilbur E. Yoder, Abbottstown, has been promoted to sergeant at Fort Hood, Tex., where he is assigned to the 1st Armored Division.

Sergeant Yoder is a gunner in Battery C, 1st Battalion of the division's 73rd Artillery. He entered the Army in December, 1961 and completed basic combat training at Fort Gordon, Ga.

Dick Stuart, first baseman for the Boston Red Sox, is the only major leaguer who ever drove home 100 runs in a season in both leagues.

BEN BELLA IS SEEKING PACT WITH MOROCCO

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

ALGIERS (AP)—President Ahmed Ben Bella named a mission to try to patch up relations with neighboring Morocco as Berber tribesmen continued to build their revolt against him after rejecting a peace offer.

Ben Bella named the mission to Morocco Friday. He has accused the Moroccans of massing troops on the Algerian frontier in support of the Berbers and in hope of seizing some desert territory, particularly ore-rich Tindouf.

The chief of the Moroccan mission will be Algeria's foreign minister Abdelaziz Bouteflika. He is scheduled to meet Sunday in the Moroccan frontier town of Oujda with Ahmed Red Guedira, Morocco's acting foreign minister.

REVOLT GROWING

The Berbers' rejection of the peace overture followed reports that the revolt is growing. Guerrilla bands have been observed in scattered areas near Cherchell, west of Algiers, and in the mountains near Medea, Orleansville and Teniet-el-Had.

Rebel headquarters are in the Kabylie mountain town of Mich-eliet, where the Berbers are under the command of a tough, 52-year-old guerrilla leader, Col. Mohand Ou el Hadj.

Ben Bella's forces set up roadblocks on most of the approaches to the mountain stronghold, but newsmen found some roads uncovered by the government troops.

DEFY APPEAL

Ben Bella's peace overtures to the Berber command came in a mission of parliamentarians. But instead of sitting down with them for talks, the leaders of the rebellious "Front of Socialist Forces" (FFS) issued a defiant statement.

"Why did these deputies fail to denounce constant violence, arrests of militants, internments, torture and the banning of national organizations," the Berber command said.

The Berbers, a non-Arab minority in predominantly Arab Algeria, called on the parliamentarians to "unite with the people to denounce creeping fascism and torture." They demanded a congress of all "revolutionary elements" to solve the nation's crisis.

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

KNICKERS: The hushed dignity of the halls of the Supreme Court will no longer be profaned by snickers over knickers.

The knickers, worn for years by the court's four pageboys are giving way to sedate suits with long trousers.

"It used to be that when we walked down the halls, we'd get snickers—or wolf whistles," said senior pageboy Melvin Hays, 17, of Danville, Va.

The pages' uniforms from now on will be dark blue or black suits with long trousers, single-breasted jackets and vests.

OVERSEAS PAY: Military enlisted personnel stationed near Waikiki Beach in Hawaii can no longer consider it a hardship making them eligible for special pay.

But soldiers in frozen Alaska will still continue to draw hardship pay under new rules announced by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara Friday.

Some 375,000 GI's lose their eligibility for special overseas pay under the new order because their living conditions are considered no different than in most of the continental United States.

Another approximately 225,000 enlisted men remain eligible for the extra pay for such hardships as undesirable climate, isolation and lack of normal community facilities.

The eligible list includes more than 100 countries and islands, including parts of Japan, France, Italy, Germany and Great Britain. But men stationed in some areas of Western Europe and Japan will lose the bonus pay.

Special duty pay at present ranges from $8 to $22.50 per month.

DEFENSE: A conference committee of Senate and House members has agreed on a bill to appropriate more than $47 million for the nation's military might in the current fiscal year.

The exact figure is expected to be filled in a report Monday and then taken up in the House Tuesday.

"Arrest And Trial" Lured Gazzara From Broadway's Brightest Triumphs

Ben Gazzara and Chuck Connors are the stars in ABC-TV's bold new dramatic series "Arrest and Trial" Sundays 8:30-10 p.m. Gazzara is seen as Detective Sgt. Nick Anderson and Connors as Atty. John Egan. The 90-minute series presents an entirely new concept in television programming with the combined adventure of the "arrest" through the tense excitement of the "trial."

By RUTH E. THOMPSON
One of the theater's brightest younger lights waved goodbye to "Strange Interlude," one of the 1963 Broadway season's brightest triumphs (and all all-star dedicated effort to benefit the Actors' Studio Theater project) to go off to Hollywood and television . . . and him a hold-out at that! What had gotten into that boy, Ben Gazzara?

"Well, I liked the whole premise of 'Arrest and Trial,'" he said of the new ABC-TV Sunday night (8:30 p.m.) double helping of justice in which he stars as Detective Sergeant Nick Anderson (seen primarily in the first half) with Chuck Connors as the defense attorney dominating the latter half.

"It was conceived of as the first non-Western, 90-minute dramatic show, you know. And it's a far cry from just a whodunit. It probes for the reasons behind let's say the antisocial acts and still adds up to entertainment."

EVERYTHING WORKED

"I felt this would be television I could feel proud to be associated with . . . and then marvellously everything else worked out too."

By "everything else" he meant that his beautiful actress wife, Janice Rule, was offered a movie role she liked at the same time. "So, we lived at Malibu Beach in the summer and now we're in Westwood. Yes, with a swimming pool. Katie (his elder daughter, five years old) has learned to swim." Elizabeth (three-and-a-half) says she wants to learn, too, but she's playing it cooler. "Daddy, I'm afraid, though, you'll have to hold onto me." Daddy, who was in New York on a quickie promotion trip, couldn't wait to get back.

KEEP APARTMENT

But it's the family (and of course also the series) he's quick to point out. The swimming pool bit alone would never keep them that far from Broadway. "We're keeping our apartment on Riverside Drive where the rooms are big and there are eight of them and the rent is still low because we've lived there like forever. (In fact it was Janice's apartment before we even met.)

"As for 'Strange Interlude' I didn't walk out on it really you know. The whole idea was a limited run because all of us had other commitments (among the rest of us were indeed such busy people as Jane Fonda), but the others were able to manage extensions whereas I had to get started on the series.

"JUST MY TYPE"

"Working with Chuck Connors? Well he's just my type anyway, a real dead-end kid." Then he cut the ribbing, which was really more of a hark-back to the tall one's days as a big league ball player known for crowd pleasing "hamming tactics." Since then Chuck has become even better known as a Western hero. The original half dozen shows were completed but had not been released but Ben's serious next comment has been borne out. "Chuck" he said "is going to surprise you. He'll prove real powerful."

Both, incidentally, were originally New York boys . . . but Ben got the acting bug as a youngster at the Madison Square Boys Club. He got as far as his second year at City College when the acting virus really took over and he entered the Theater Workshop of the New School for Social Research. Next he was accepted by Lee Strassberg at the famed Actors' Studio, as one of a group of fieldlings who turned out to be eagles. A short year later he, the late James Dean, Albert Salmi and Paul Richards (who's also seen on ABC this season in

DIALING AROUND

Out of retirement comes Jon Hall who disappeared from home screens five years ago when "Ramar of the Jungle" ended its first run. He makes his return in the "Perry Mason" series as a guest in "The Cast of the Festive Felon."

In case you haven't already heard, it was a daughter of Andy Williams and his lovely French wife, Claudine Longet. The things you learn on TV: How to write memorable music? According to Noel Coward on a recent "Today" show he born with a natural ear for it. Though he's written over 200 songs he had only a few music lessons in his life... and that only as a lark when he and Fred Astaire tried it with mock seriousness in 1923.

GOOD SCULPTOR
Multi-talented Steve Allen revealed himself as an excellent sculptor when his "Bronze Head of Skitch Henderson" was exhibited at a recent New York benefit showing under the auspices of Goodson-Todman on behalf of the Whitney Museum's building fund. Other television luminaries whose drawings and paintings were shown included: Dorothy Kilgallen, Durward Kirby, George Maharis, Ed McMahon and Bess Myerson. It was hard to tell whether Henry Morgan's work qualifies as a painting or as a sculpture. He called it "Caboose" and it was built up of wood, metal and—as the listing stated—"etc."

It's a Cinderella ending for the poor emaciated stray cat that brushed against Elizabeth Taylor when she was filming her documentary TV show Miss T adopted the feline who's now living it up at the Dorchester.

Arrest

"Breaking Point" opened off-Broadway in "End As a Man." It hit the critics so hard in the middle of their rave mechanisms that the play graduated quickly to "on-Broadway success."

"HATFUL OF RAIN"

Next came "Hatful of Rain," where everybody was tough. "We got into Philadelphia late at night for the try-out," he recalls, "and the room-clerk asked 'Who cast this play, the parole officer?'"

The stage version of "Cat On A Hot Tin Roof" came next, then his first movie, recreating his "End As a Man" heel. Other notable movies followed including "Anatomy of a Murder."

"I much prefer our live-tape technique on 'Arrest and Trial.' Film is slow and I can't stand inactivity," and though he didn't realize it, Ben was proving his point by pacing up and down his hotel living room.

"Don't misunderstand me, though, no corners are cut. I understand each 90-minute segment costs about a quarter of a million dollars. If we need a night scene there's none of this shooting in the daytime with filters; we go on location around Los Angeles . . . at night."

He's having some happy reunions as his old stage cronies fly out for guest shots. Anthony Franciosa has already appeared. Pat Hingle is slated.

But the cronies are all very well . . . it's Janice that really counts. "I don't think I could have taken this on without her. She's my severest critic and she's a wonderful woman besides. I called her up at six this morning from New York to tell her I loved her. I forgot it was the middle of the night in California."

"Her acting?" (For the past several years it's been hosannahs from the critics every time she appears. "Well," he said thoughtfully proving you can have more than one "severest critic" under the same roof, "she's grown incredibly in the last few years. She's now a very fine actress.")
